The Australian Wine Research Institute reported on July 2, 2026 that APVMA final regulatory decisions mean products containing paraquat, paraquat plus diquat, and diquat are not supported for vineyard use. Existing stocks with labels approved before June 23, 2026 can continue to be purchased and used on vineyards until June 22, 2028. Manufacture under old labels is no longer authorised, and new product labels will no longer list vineyards as an approved use, with revised labels marked RV2026.
