카드 요약 / 당시 확인 내용

Syngenta filed a federal patent infringement lawsuit against BASF in the U.S. District Court for the District of Delaware, accusing BASF of copying proprietary agrochemical formulations to create a rival corn herbicide. Syngenta alleges BASF's upcoming corn herbicide Ridivex infringes U.S. Patent No. 8,404,618, which protects the composition used in Syngenta's herbicide Storen. Ridivex combines pyroxasulfone with the safener isoxadifen-ethyl. With EPA expected to approve Ridivex, Syngenta asked the court to block BASF from launching or selling the herbicide, warning that market entry ahead of the autumn purchasing cycle could cause irreparable harm.
