카드 요약 / 당시 확인 내용

Brazil's Ministry of Agriculture approved a record 912 pesticide registrations in 2025, yet simultaneously increased cancellations and rejections. The agency published 158 registration cancellations in 2025, a 44.95% increase compared with 2024, with an additional 55 cancellations in the first half of 2026. Companies are voluntarily withdrawing registrations because maintaining them has become prohibitively expensive due to annual regulatory fees, toxicological re - evaluations lasting over a decade, and repeated documentation updates required by new legislation. Between 2021 and 2025, Brazil authorized 3,344 pesticide registrations in total. These regulatory pressures threaten market competition, potentially reducing crop protection options and raising costs for farmers.
