Yara International's U.S. subsidiary Yara North America agreed to acquire Gulf Coast Ammonia's Texas City facility from GCA Holdings LLC (affiliated with Lotus Infrastructure Partners and MB Energy) for USD 1.3 billion. The plant has an expected nameplate capacity of 1.3 million metric tons per year, with Air Products supplying industrial gases through a long-term agreement. The facility is currently completing commissioning work and is anticipated to reach stable operations by the end of 2026. The USD 1.3 billion consideration increases Yara's total 2026 capex to USD 2.5 billion, within the framework set at its January 2026 Capital Markets Day.
