카드 요약 / 당시 확인 내용

Michigan State University Extension published its vegetable crop report on July 8, 2026, covering field observations including herbicide injury in carrots and broader pest, disease and crop - condition updates. The report is practical field intelligence rather than a company announcement, showing how vegetable growers must manage herbicide injury risk, disease scouting and insect pressure at the same time. This supports a sales approach built around diagnosis, label compliance and crop - specific integrated programs.
