CropLife reported on July 9 that ADM and REDSTAR LLC entered a distribution agreement expanding access to NeoVita 43 under the REDVITA 43 brand across the Midwest and Rocky Mountain regions. The sugar - based biostimulant supports soil microbial activity, nutrient use efficiency and crop productivity. In multiyear University of Illinois trials, the product plus liquid starter fertilizer increased corn yields by up to seven bushels per acre versus starter fertilizer alone. It can be applied with liquid starter fertilizer at planting or foliar to improve herbicide efficacy and provide quick crop energy.
